

The ISVA supports your independent professional practice. The Forum provides you with the time and space to grow and develop your business...

As the busy owner of a small or medium-sized surveying and valuation practice you don't have time to do everything; that's where Forum members have a big advantage over other businesses. Our members spend less time and money on compliance issues than non-member companies so you can get on with running and growing your practice while the Forum looks after the things that get in your way.

The Forum of Private Business was founded in 1977 as a not-for profit membership organisation to support small private businesses. All our profits go back into providing better services and support for our members.

Today, the Forum of Private Business is one of the UK's leading national business groups, with an enviable reputation of providing businesses and organisations with the support, advice and protection needed to grow and prosper.

There are three main areas of cost, these are:

- ✓ employment issues
- ✓ health & safety
- ✓ tax investigations.

As well as the support and advice, the Forum provides insurance cover for legal proceedings such as employment tribunals, tax investigations and commercial related prosecutions. Expert business advice and legal protection cover provides full legal expenses insurance for any debt that exceeds £1,000 (excluding VAT) which is subject to AXA approval on bringing such action. Our debt recovery partner will also look at claims in excess of £500 and work with you to recover such debts.

Work related issues crop up when you least expect and you find you need advice and support. With a Forum membership your business is protected and you have access to practical, jargon free and expert business advice 24/7 to help keep you on the right side of the law.

We'll help you to grow your business by providing you with the right advice and resources. We can also enable you to access finance and reduce costs to increase your profitability with our profile of partners. Our membership is for our members and not for profit giving you time to focus on growth, improve business performance, reduce costs and increase profits.
